

November 2023

Just a short note that there were 130 price concessions last month, slightly fewer than last month but there seems to be around this number of concessions every month.

Regarding concessions, one thing to note is that concession prices may change during the month. For example the price of both 250 and 500 microgram strengths of ropinirole were granted a concession in the middle of the month, which was then increased towards the end of the month.

Only other item of note are the ongoing increases in price for atomoxetine capsules with all strengths up 16-30%.
